School Tax Legal In Spite Of Complaints

The school tax election held last Tuesday resulted in the voters approving the upcoming election.

SECOND, the Commissioners and Probate Judge have no choice in winning the election. TITLE 52, SECTION 258 of the Alabama Code reads in part: "Upon the written request of the county board of education of any city having a city board of education for a special election in any school district under the control of the respective board, the court of county commissioners or other governing body SHALL call an election at the respective board of education and shall appoint three managers and one returning officer for each voting place."

This section continues to say that the election SHALL be called at the time requested by the school board. All this was done and the tax was approved even though a minority of those casting ballots don't want to pay.

DRINK COFFEE FOR CANCER FUND

MRS. KILPATRICK, MRS. SMITH

Local restaurants are participating in Coffee Day today (Thursday, April 25th). All proceeds from the sale of coffee go to the American Cancer Society for research, education and service. Tom's participating are: Tom's Drive-In, Dairy Queen, Whittman Drug Co., Northey's Big "R", and Holley's Restaurant. April is Cancer Control month by Congressional and Presidential action.

Mrs. (Charles) Martha Kilpatrick is the Special Events Chairman.

More than 52 million Americans now living will eventually have cancer. It will strike over the years in approximately 2 out of 3 families. There will be about 105 new cases among men and women of all ages and children this year in the Coffee County Unit, of which 54 will die.

State Trooper Killed

State Trooper Ken Lassiter was killed Friday night on Highway 331 about 15 miles north of Opp.

Lassiter, a veteran trooper had stopped a car and issued a warning ticket to the driver and was walking back to his car at the time of the accident. A pickup truck approaching from the north apparently lost control, crossed the road and sideswiped the car. Lassiter had stopped, then hit the state trooper car and hit the trooper. A pickup truck apparently lost control, crossed the highway, sideswiped the car. Lassiter had stopped, then hit the trooper car and hit the trooper. He was killed instantly.

The two girls in the stopped car saw Lassiter run to avoid the accident but he was unable to get out of the way.

The pickup truck left the scene and was the subject of a wide spread search until Kenneth Barton, age 33, of Gantt, turned himself in to law officers and said he couldn't remember anything that had happened during the night but that his truck was the truck the officers were searching for according to news reports.

The two girls in the car that had just received a warning ticket stopped a motorist just after the accident and the driver of this auto used Lassiter's radio to reach the Opp Police Department. All surrounding law enforcement officers began an immediate investigation of the incident.

GUARDSMEN CLEAN

Members of the local National Guard unit did their part to clean up Elba last Saturday when they conducted a pick-up campaign along the roadways within the city limits. Several truckloads of trash were picked up by these men. One guardsmen was heard to say, "I have picked up a million beer cans today. It will make me think twice before throwing another one out the window of my car."

LAW QUOTED ON

NAMING POLL OFFICIALS

There has been some harsh words spoken about the selection of poll officials for the upcoming Democratic primary. At least one member of the Democratic Executive Committee has complained to the wrong people. Alabama law spells out how poll officials are selected. Title 17, Section 349 reads in part: "If the list of election officers submitted to the appointing board by the county executive committee of the party contains the names of sufficient persons who are legally eligible then the appointing board MUST select and appoint the officers to conduct the primary election from such list."

In other words, the Democratic Executive Committee (when no Republicans are on the list) submits a list of poll officials to the appointing board and the board MUST select and appoint the officers to conduct the primary election from such list.

There fore if anyone desires to serve the polls for an election this person should contact the executive committee of their respective party. Not this newspaper, not a county commissioner, not the probate judge but a member of the executive committee, preferably the chairman.

City Gives Funds To Cemetery Committee

Mr. Fred Clark, member of the Finance and Evaluation Committee of the Elba Evergreen Perpetual Care Committee is shown accepting checks from City Clerk Jack Prescott in the amounts of $1,625 and $200. The larger check represents the sale of cemetery lots during fiscal year 1973, and the smaller check is the first of twelve monthly checks authorized by the City Council as payment for lots sold prior to 1973.

Commissioners Hassle Over Gas Money

The County Commission has held several extra meetings held several extra meetings recently. They have been in disagreement over additional funding for the County Engineer to use on road work.

When the county went under the Unit System the commission voted to give the engineer the funds the respective districts had accumulated plus $38,000 a month. This $38,000 is the same amount the four districts divided among themselves for road work in the past. The balance of the gas tax money was put into a fund for road paving.

At one of the special meetings it was recommended that all the gas tax money go into the present operating fund for six months to implement a "catch-up" program on all county road work. This was made and seconded to this effect. When the vote was taken, two commissioners voted yes, three abstained from voting and one was absent. The Probate Judge declared the motion dead for lack of a majority.

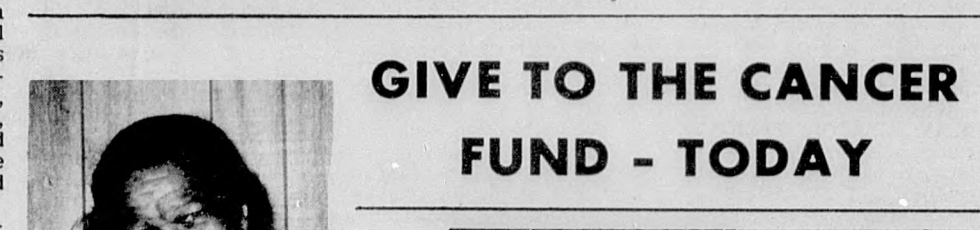

On Monday of this week, Probate Judge Sawyer read the following prepared statement: "Gentlemen - On the motion made and seconded at the commissioners meeting on April 12, 1974, relative to depositing the entire gasoline check in the gasoline fund, there were 2 votes in favor of the action, 3 members not voting and one absent. I, as chairman, ruled that the motion failed to carry for lack of a majority vote."

However, I find that the ruling was incorrect in that a majority of the legal votes cast carries a motion, particularly where a quorum is present and eligible to vote. Therefore, the ruling of the chairman being in error, the motion is carried and the minutes of the commissioners' court is corrected to reflect that action.

The gasoline tax money totals from $55,000 to $65,000 each month. As the action of the commissioners now stands, this money will all be used by the county engineer in the "catch-up" program.

At a meeting of the commissioners last week, the county engineer was asked to present a detailed accounting of how he had spent the $274,213.97 spent since September 30th of last year. He submitted this report at the regular meeting of the commission on Monday of this week. Engineer O'Neil also spent about one hour with this newspaper comparing his expenses with the expenses of the four districts during the same period one year ago.

Prayer Day Set Nationally April 30th

Tuesday, April 30 has been officially set aside as "A National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer." The United States Congress in the 39th Session passed the resolution with the hope that people everywhere would humble themselves before God acknowledging our dependence upon Him and repent of our national sins.

"It has been called to mind that the last national call to prayer was by President Abraham Lincoln in 1863," says Pastor Robert K. Davis. "Surely this is of God, for it calls our great nation to pause and reflect on the blessings we have enjoyed in the past."

"America needs to turn to God in prayer asking for forgiveness of sins and for God's direction."

On this special Tuesday, the citizens of Coffee County and the city of Elba are urged by all concerned citizens and the ministers of this area to pause and pray for our great nation. For as the Psalmist David has said, "Give thanks to the Lord, O God is the Lord." Psalm 33:12.

4-H Leaders Honored Monday

The annual 4-H Leaders Recognition Dinner was held in Elba on Monday night of this week. Guest speaker for the event was Dr. Odvar Berg, a native of Norway who spent most of his life in the Congo as a missionary. Berg is now an American citizen and spoke on "What Is Right About America?"

Attending the meeting was a host of 4-H volunteer workers, county officials and several members of the press. Coffee County is again Number 1 in the 4-H leader program in Alabama.

The press was represented by THE ELBA CLIPPER, The Enterprise, WBRB radio, Auburn University News Service, and Covington Electric Co-Op public relations department.

Dr. Berg gave a "from the heart" talk about why everyone should be proud of the great country in the world. Sandy Coffey, Extension Home Agent, presented awards to the 4-H leaders for their service.

AWARDS GIVEN TO LEADERS.

There are various ways to use apples in the menu such as in the main course, in breads, in salads, in desserts, and in other ways. Here are some appetizing recipes for the apple.

1. Apples in the main course - PANNED APPLE WEDGES
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice
5 cups pared apple wedges
1/3 cup sugar

Melt fat in a large frypan over moderately low heat. Mix lemon juice with apples and pour in pan. Sprinkle with sugar.

Brown apples lightly on both sides, turning once. If apples are not tender, cover and cook over low heat a little longer.

Serving suggestions: Panned apples are especially good served with pork, ham, fried chicken, or sweet potatoes, or fill halves of bakers, seasoned acorn squash with keep their shape are best for whole baking. Tart apples are good for cooking; for eating raw, sweeter apples are better. Early summer apples are especially delicious in pies and applesauce because they are likely to be juicy, tart, and quick-cooking.

In food preparation, those of the best quality should be picked. Apples should be firm and crisp, have a good color and be free from defects.

BILLY GOAT ATTACK

In a pasture off Highway 84, north of Allen Staplefield, there is a billy goat with a strong aversion to the Army invading his domain.

Private First Class Rickey W. Pierce, who is assigned to Company E, 30th Infantry, 4th Engineer Battalion, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Derrell Pierce of Alberta, Ala., has bruises to prove it.

He really had no intentions of going to the business. He was just doing his duty of guarding a T-55 helicopter that had landed about 10 a.m. because of a low oil-pressure reading. The instructor and student had been evacuated, and Pierce was left to wait for the maintenance crew.

The attack was completely unexpected.

"It was threatening rain, so I was in my pop tent. All of a sudden, a goat charged at me, and there seemed to be feet and horns everywhere," Pierce said.

When he finally extracted himself from the tent, the goat knocked him down a time or two before he could seek shelter in the aircraft.

Such disciplinary tactics didn't stop old Billy. He attacked the helicopter.

"He was butting against the ship and I decided I had better leave it before more damage occurred," Pierce stated. So he climbed out and ran to a nearby fence, jumping over it just in time to escape further injury.

He was still there, with the goat charging up and down the fence, when the maintenance people arrived about 1 p.m. They were not warmly welcomed, either.

The cost to repair the T-55, according to officials, is only about $100. What is noteworthy, however, is that not many reports show the cause of damage as being a goat attack.

Of course, old Billy maintains that he was perfectly justified in defending the pasture because his "nanny" and kids were there. Even the Army has no right to horn in on his family.

ELBA SPLITS TWIN-BILL WITH DALE COUNTY

The Elba Tigers played a double-header Tuesday (April 16) with the Dale County Warriors, and split the twin-bill. The Tigers dropped the opener 3-1, but rallied in the second game to crush the Warriors 9-3.

In the opener, Dale County's pitcher limited the Elba "nine" to only two hits. In the game, Dale County bunched three hits in the third inning to take a 1-0 lead. The Warriors added their lead to 3-0 after four innings on the strength of two Dale County home runs by Haynes and Yeoman. Elba tried to pull the game out in the seventh inning, but the rally fell short.

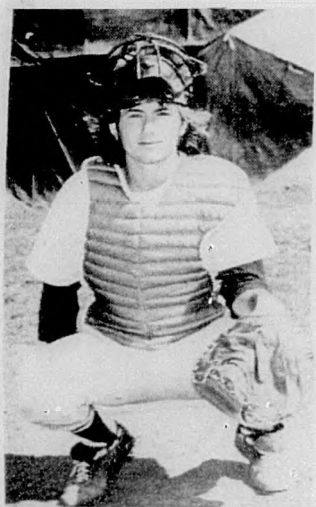

In the seventh, Gary Mulzar led off with a walk, and Mitchell Bragg then singled him to third. After Bragg stole second, Randy Mullar hit a grounder to the first-baseman, and the first-baseman chose to try to get Gary at the plate, but failed. On the play at the plate Randy Mullar advanced to second. Lamar Sasser then walked to lead the bases with no outs. Charles Ross Ellis then hit a line-drive, and the second-baseman relayed the ball to first base to double off Sasser. Stevie Williams then flied out to end the rally.

I have a letter from L. R. Allen from Clemson University outlining some of their research on millet for bird seed. Coffee County to produce hay in addition to the feed crop

With the high cost of feed 1 feed like more Coffee County farmers will be planting temporary grass this year. They are just hoping that there will be some price increases in the things they have to sell this year. This is starting off to be a very unusual year. It will be interesting to see how things are by Thanksgiving.

TOO MUCH

My co-worker Dan Presley is a keen observer. He has been to a lot of peanut short-courses and knows a lot about growing peanuts. He dropped in my office Friday and emphasized something that peanut specialist M. D. Bond at Auburn emphasizes continuously. Wiregrass farmers are harvesting their land entirely too much prior to planting. In fact, Presley and Bond claim that in many cases they are taking so much moisture out of the soil that they are taking it away from the plants. If they don't get a rain they will have trouble getting up a stand.

In certain cases I am certain it is necessary to do some harrowing to break up the soil and to break up the things. However, if the land is in pretty good shape, I would not do it. A little harrowing as possible prior to planting.

BIGGEST IN COFFEE

Harrell Milling Company of Enterprise has completed the biggest lagoon in Coffee County and Jack Harrell, and Stanley Hobbs are putting in one of the most modern hog operations in the county.

The first step the Harrells took when starting this project was to contact the Soil Conservation Service in New Brighton, for their assistance in locating a suitable site. The SCS located a site for the lagoon and then the location of the buildings was decided. A total of seven buildings will be constructed including a large hog house, pig-parlors, and finishing houses. These houses will be almost all automatic. Each house will have a slatted or partly slatted floor on which the waste from the hogs will drop down through the slats in the floor and fall into a holding tank beneath the building. The waste in pipes from these holding tanks. When these tanks fill to capacity, the gates will be opened and the waste will flow from the hogs will drop down through the slats in the floor and fall into a holding tank beneath the building. BUYING TIPS

When buying frozen vegetables, buy the large, sea-through bags rather than individual packages. You can use as much, or as little as you need, and you can save up to 40 percent on the vegetables you buy.

Always buy whole chickens and cut them up yourself. You'll save 10 to 20 cents on every chicken you buy. And learn to bone whole chickens. Chicken cutlets cost three or four times the price of whole chickens.

DIETS

People on low cholesterol diets who have been advised to limit their egg intake can now find an acceptable egg substitute in the frozen food sections of local groceries.

The new egg substitute is frozen in eight-ounce cartons that come two to a package. When thawed, the liquid resembles whole beaten eggs and may be kept in the refrigerator for up to seven days.

The thawed liquid can be made into a dish that looks and tastes much like fresh scrambled eggs. The product can also be used in omelets, French toast, pie, pudding, muffins, bread and cake.

Although it isn't recommended for use in packaged cake mixes, the egg substitute has been used satisfactorily in a pound cake variation that uses instant pudding mixes.

The manufacturer claims that the egg substitute is virtually free of cholesterol and has a nutritive value similar to eggs although it may not be practical to make comparisons between the nutritive value of the substitute and the natural product.

Those who are allergic to eggs are advised to consult their physician before using the new egg substitute because its main component is egg white.

The dimensions of the lagoon are 205' by 350' and the lagoon is 18' in depth. This large lagoon is designed to accommodate 60 sows and 2,500 finish hogs at one time.

To date, there have been 4 lagoons similar to this one built in Coffee County with SCS assistance. Another method of waste disposal involves removing waste products from the lagoon. This system serves the dual purpose of eliminating a sanitation problem, and at the same time pumps waste into the lagoon and is purified, then pumped into tank trucks which are equipped with sprayers. This waste is then sprayed on the fields of grass. Irrigating systems are now in use on some farms in the state. These spray systems carry the waste in pipes from the lagoon to pastureland, where it is dispersed and absorbed into the soil. There have not been any spray systems put into operation in Coffee County yet. For assistance in planning and design of a waste lagoon, contact the Soil Conservation Service, P. O. General Telephone

To Appeal

Denial Of Increase

General Telephone Company said it will appeal a state Public Service Commission decision denying the firm a $2.4 million increase in rates.

Bill Entz, Alabama General Manager for the company, said "The Commission did not recognize economic facts which were firmly supported by evidence and testimony. Our only recourse now is to appeal their decision to the proper court."

Entz said that the company expects to give formal notice of appeal within the next few days. In its decision the commission said "utilities, being monopolies, generally speaking, are better situated in times of inflation than many non-regulated industries..."

"I don't understand this assumption," said Entz, "since we experience the same rising costs as any business."

"In addition, we are regulated and earn only a certain return on our investment. Non-regulated businesses are free to set prices and earn as they see fit."

In General Telephone's last rate request, two years ago, the commission granted an 8.5 percent return which, if feared, would have resulted in a 10.1 percent return on equity. In its current decision, the commission reduces the company's allowable return to 7.2 percent and said it would produce an 11.05 percent return on equity.

It fail to understand their logic or methodology," said Entz.

BLEED THROUGH

"F.H.A.—FORWARD IN THE SPIRIT OF '76"

Miss Beverly Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, and Miss Gena Kendrick are shown during a practice session for the fashion show. Beverly directed the practice session.

Toward 1800, enthusiasm for the fashion belonging to former times became a passion, and the tubular dress and high waist were the mode of fashion. The continued wearing of thin fabrics, such as this yellow-dotted Swiss being modeled by Miss Nancy Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Taylor, brought on an influenza epidemic later called "Muslin Disease". Bonnets were of all shapes and sizes and fabrics such as satin, velvet, gauze or straw. The straw bonnets were worn in the winter as well as in summer and were frequently tied down with a red silk handkerchief or a folded silk or lace veil.

The gown of the 1830's is being modeled by Miss Angie Bedsole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bedsole. The blue cotton gown is accented with deep red flowers. As the waistline moved down to normal, corsets reappeared. The small waist was emphasized by extending the shoulders and skirt. The only concession to boldness was the off-shoulder neckline. The curved line and drooping shoulders stressed femininity and the concepts of feminine submission.

The age of the crinoline is represented by Miss Wilma Anderson's costume, a blue-gray stripe with set in white blouse and Peter Pan collar. The crinoline was a petticoat corset and lined with horsehair and was introduced to rescue women from increasing immobility. The crinoline was far less heavy than the metal hoop or farthingale previously used. Wilma's ensemble is completed by the navy blue tie at the neck. Wilma's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kasper Anderson.

This 19th century dress, worn by Miss Judy Lee emphasizes the smooth bodice made possible by a corset of heavy firm satin. This produced what was known as the "wasp-waist" effect. An 18" waist was desired and admired during that day. You will note that the orange and white outfit is trimmed with matching bows. A black bonnet completes the ensemble. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Glen Lee.

1875 ushers in the Age of Bustle. The bustle or back fullness was a revival of the dress form popular with Madame de Maintenon. Miss Debbie Padgett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winford Padgett, is modeling a black jacket over a black and red checked dress with a bustle. A black hat and purse completes this outfit.

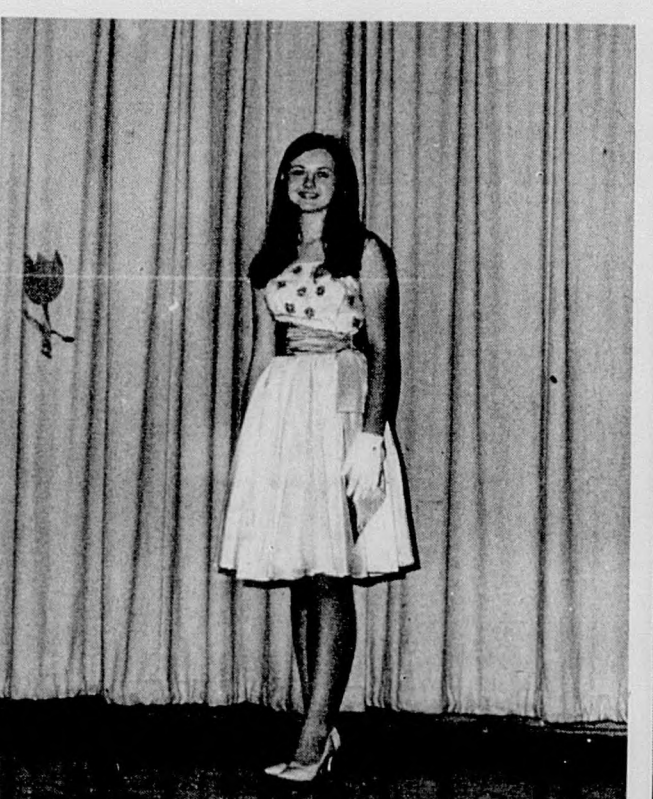

Miss Kathy Bowers models the suit and shirtwaist of the Gay 90's. Kathy's ensemble features a magenta jacket, full figured skirt, and white blouse with popular bow tie. The specialization of the costume for sportswear began to take shape in the 1890's for lawn tennis and bicycling. The straw brimmed hat was popular during this era. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burin Bowers.

With the outbreak of World War II, American designs finally received attention. The New Look of the 1940's had the nipped waist and lengthened skirt which was a bit fuller as shown in the orange floral-print crepe modeled by Billye Faye Scott. A black velvet hat with feather trim completes the ensemble. Billye Faye is the daughter of Mrs. Juanita Scott.

The style of the Post War Era is shown by Miss Bunny Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, who is wearing a pink and black linen suit. The nipped-in waist of the era had a tremendous influence upon other items of dress. With the waist as a focal point, belts gained in popularity, and hats were also an added attraction such as this hand-made hat of pink velvet.

The evening wear of the 50's featured a short semi-formal or off-white satin with the nipped-in waist accented by a side bow in front. Miss Brenda Spann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Spann, is the glamorous 1950 model.

Miss Gena Kendrick models the 1950 strapless red evening dress with tight fitting bodice and flared skirt. Gena is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Doug Kendrick.

The Elba High School Chapter of Future Homemakers of America was invited to present a fashion show at the State F.H.A. Convention in Montevallo, Al., on April 6th. Thirteen girls, most of them officers, modeled clothes from 1776 to the present day period.

The pictures shown here represent only ten of the twenty-three costumes modeled in the show.

Those attending the "convention from Elba were: Nancy Taylor, Wilma Anderson, Beverly Cox, Bunny Cox, Melanie Carney, Debbie Padgett, Judy Lee, Kathy Bowers, Gena Kendrick, Susan Stokes, Angie Bedsole, Debra Boutwell, Billye Faye Scott, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. Sylvia Terrell, and Mrs. Winford Padgett.

The theme for the fashion show was "F.H.A.—Forward in the Spirit of '76."

Fashion is one of the strongest forces in the world. Since the formation of the United States, and throughout our heritage, clothing behavior has represented similar motives in man's dress. The importance of fashion cannot be overestimated.

Fashions reflect the spirit or ideals of the time in which they exist. Many of our current fashions are modeled after designs from the past.

The history of dress from 1776 to the present is more than a story of changing fashions, but a way of understanding other aspects of our heritage.

The opening years of American life are strangely colorful with gaiety and extravagance—an unusual hue after so depressing a period.

Victory and independence had come and the future was bright. Spirits were high. At the same time, conditions were unsettled. The relation to the State, to the Nation, was still under debate, and the people had not yet adjusted themselves to any well defined national life. Naturally, all these influences combined were tending to shape the expression of dress in these first years of independence.

Indeed fashions have changed since 1776. These fashion changes symbolize the birth, growth and maturity of our nation into a democracy where liberty and justice are truly for all.

F.H.A. is moving forward in the spirit of 1776, providing an opportunity to pay tribute to the rich heritage of our nation. American citizens often take for granted the simple luxuries and pleasures of daily life that they so enjoy.

The familiar words of the late President, John F. Kennedy, best express what people's present attitude toward the United States should be: "We observe today not a victory of party but a celebration of freedom, symbolizing an end as well as a beginning, signifying renewal as well as change."

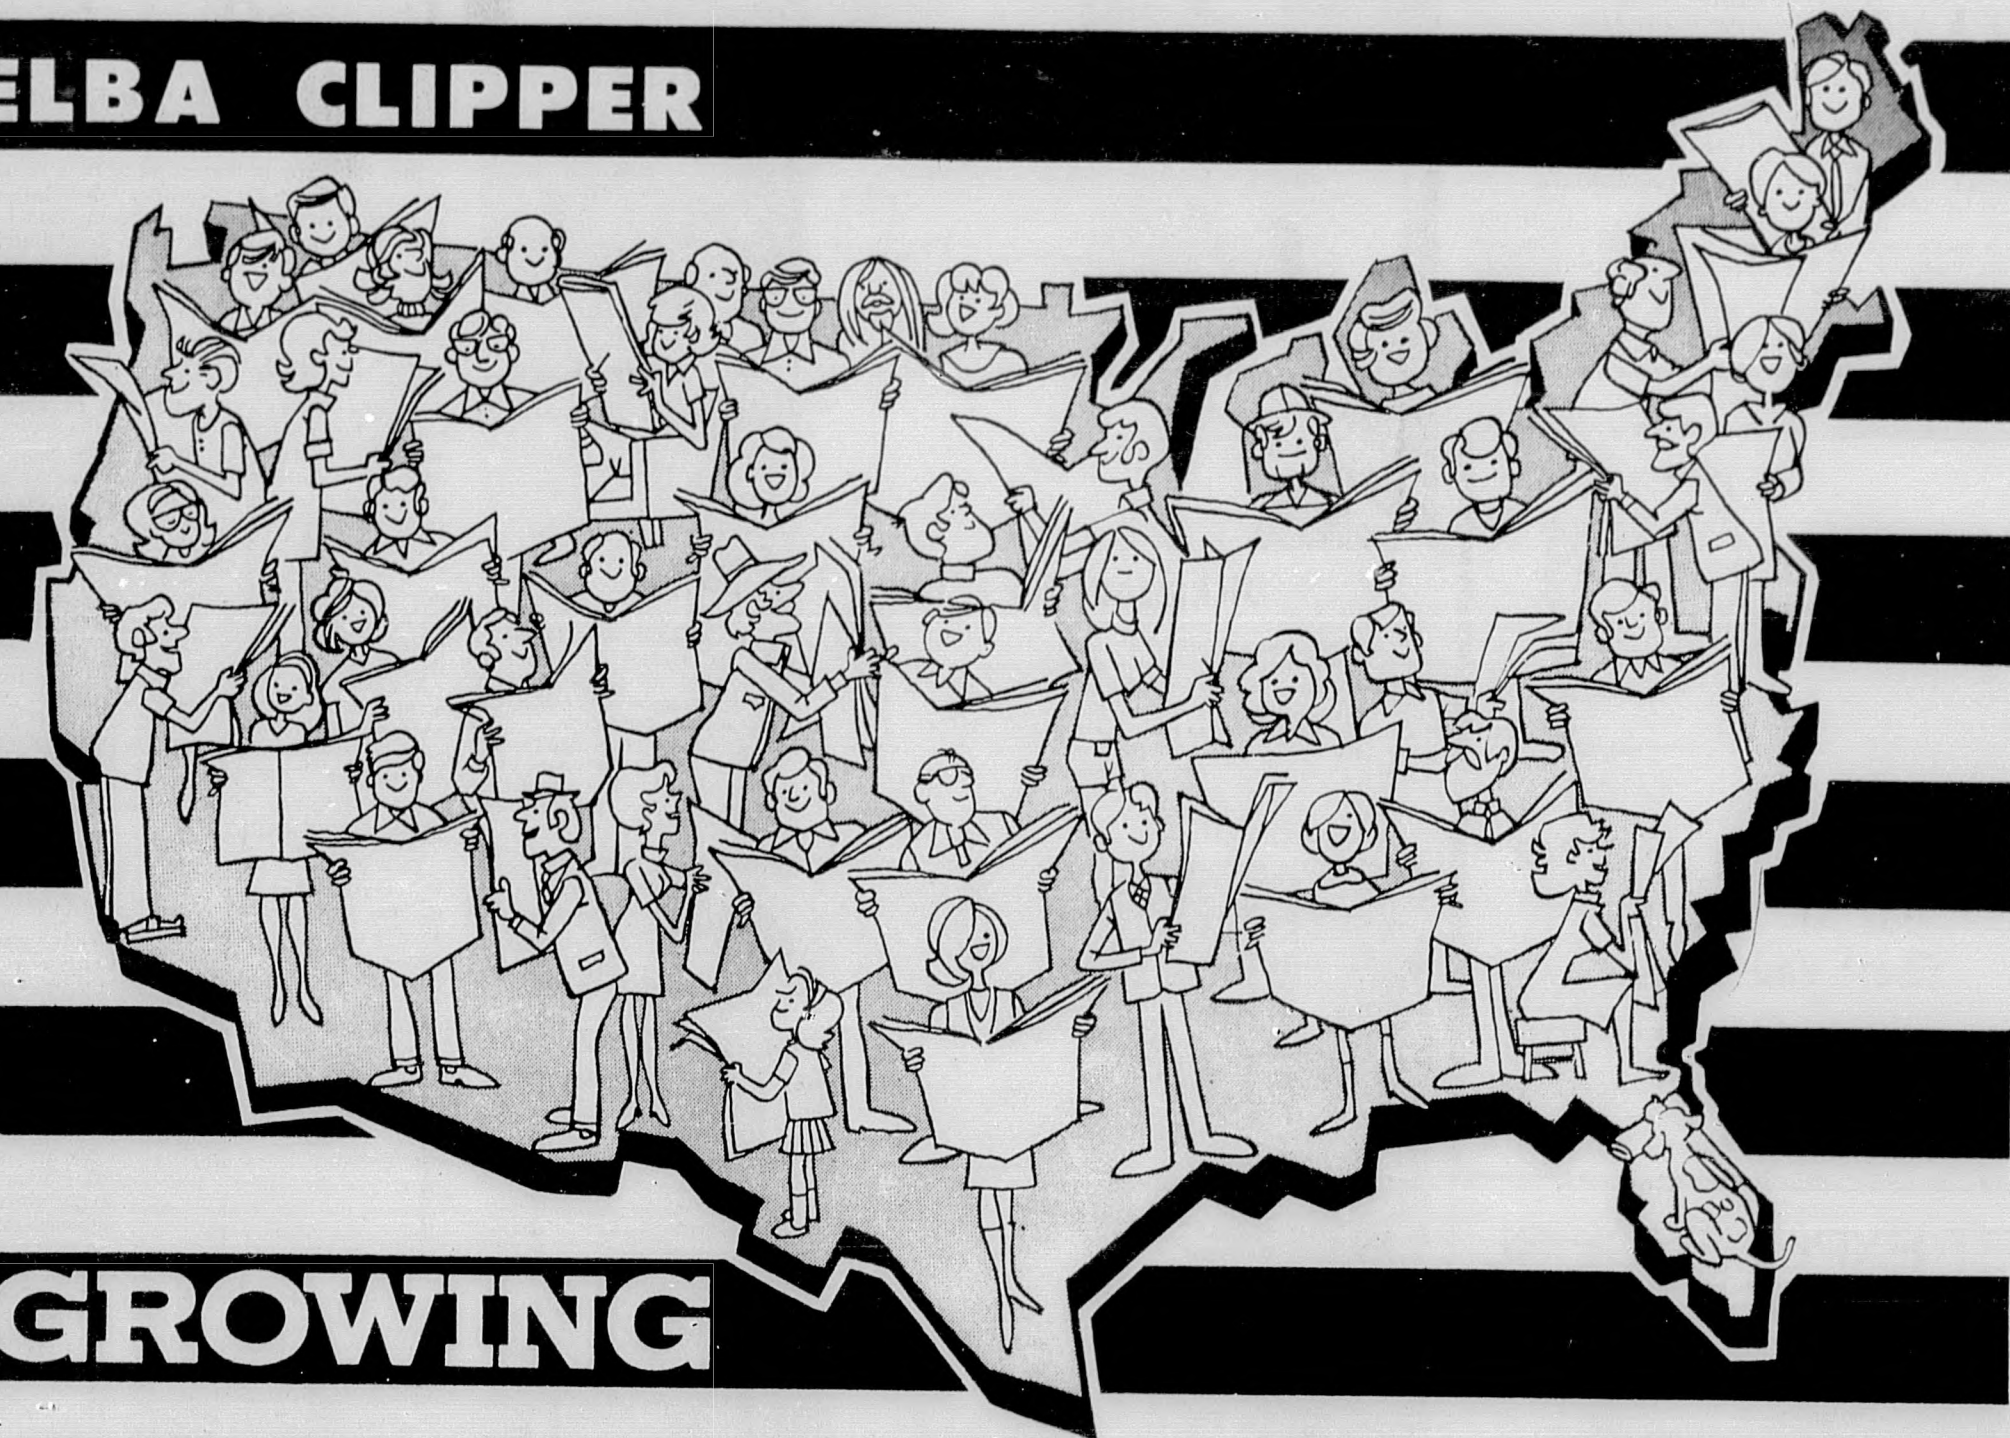

Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans, born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of our ancient heritage, and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed, and to which we are committed today at home and around the world.

So let us begin anew, remembering on both sides, that civility is not a sign of weakness, and sincerity is always subject to proof. Let us never negotiate out of fear, but let us never fear to negotiate. Now the trumpet summons us again not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need; not as a call to battle, though embattled we are; but a call to bear the burdens of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out, rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulations, a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, diseases, and war itself.

And so, my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

Dickinson Goes Under The Knife

Alabama's Second District Congressman William L. Dickinson was released from the weekend from the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, after undergoing knee surgery.

Congressman Dickinson entered the hospital Thursday, April 11th and was operated on the following morning for what is commonly called "football knee." The Navy surgeons removed torn cartilage from Dickinson's right knee in an operation a bit more extensive than anticipated.

However, Dickinson said that after experiencing some pain the first few days he is optimistic for a full recovery from the knee injury that has plagued him for years.

Dickinson scheduled the operation during the Easter Congressional Recess so that he would not miss any important Congressional action.

Elba JROTC Cadets Tour Ft. Benning

The Elba JROTC Battalion took an orientation trip to Ft. Benning, Georgia, on April 8, 1974. They traveled in two chartered buses, JROTC units from Ozark, Daleville, Andalusia, Troy, Marianna, Atlanta, and other schools in the tri-state area also attended. The first stop was the Infantry Hall, where all units were assembled together in the theater.

The cadets, welcomed by members of the Infantry School, saw two exhibitions. First, a movie on the Ranger Training was shown. The cadets were then surprised at this special phase of the Infantry. Following the movie, a tribute to the Infantryman, entitled "I Am The Infantry," was presented with the use of some special theatrical effects and techniques.

After the general assembly, all units went to the Army Museum. Since there were only a thousand cadets in all the groups combined, only brief tours were conducted.

Don't just sit there. Be a Navy Man.

If you want to get a good job you need some experience. For those who qualify, the new Navy offers training in over 300 skilled jobs with good pay and a great chance to get ahead.

Be someone special in the new Navy. Talk to your Navy Recruiter.

Tuckers Proud Parents Of Baby Boy

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie W. Tucker announce the birth of a baby boy, William Clark, on April 12, 1974. He weighed 8 lbs. 7 oz.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tucker and Mrs. Harold C. Calhoun of Elba.

THE TOAD

Me and my dog went jogging. Upon an old rugged road. And all of a sudden old jumped. A very huge toad.

My dog jumped behind a very slender tree. And whispered to me "How can this be?"

Without any trouble. Or without any scream. The toad jumped back in. Like a little flower stream.

Healthy Glands Keep Old Age From Tearing Down Body

By LELOD KORDLE
Number Thirteen of a Series

Ben Bald treats his thinning hair to a series of expensive scalp treatments, while Susie Sallow spends plenty of hard earned money for creams and lotions. Both believe that hair and skin can be "nourished" from the outside. Nothing could be farther from the truth!

A youthful appearance begins inwardly with healthy, properly nourished endocrine glands. Before my efforts to help you recover your lost youth can progress any further, you must realize that endocrine glands are the dictators which determine whether or not your all-out campaign to look and feel younger will succeed or fail.

Your glands must be nourished with the proper food elements or you can't depend on them to lend you much aid in the effort to regain your vanishing youth.

If a part of the human body could be described as "temperamental," then I would say that the endocrine glands are the most temperamental of all. They are the glands which are not behaving as they should, the skin becomes dark and sallow, with deep lines. Note, please, that they don't advertise their upset by a pain in the small of the back where they are located.

Let's consider the glands which perhaps should rank first in your effort to retain the appearance and sensations of youth.

What qualities or attributes make people say of a certain man or woman: "He (or she) is so young for his (her) age?"

My first answer would be sexual vibrancy—for in these two words are contained the confidence, inward feeling of power, energy, vitality, enthusiasm, mental alertness, sense of attractiveness, assurance, stamina and radiant glow which are gifts to the young of any age.

The hormones secreted by the glands exert a tremendous influence on your physical health, as well as on your ability to retain a youthful appearance and to live a long, useful life.

As a further example of the devious ways in which the endocrine glands proclaim their unhappiness, there is the unpredictable thyroid, located at the front of the neck. Frequently any change in the normal functioning of this well-known gland Concluded from the book "Eat and Grow Young" by Lelod Kordle, published by Specialty Publications.

Next Resistance to germs and viruses can be built up by proper food. The first of six "Commandments" ruling your health.

When he campaigned in 1970 Jere Beasley made a lot of promises to the people of Alabama,

He promised us more money for our schools.

He promised to set up a job-training program so workers could be trained for high-paying industrial jobs—to help attract good new industry to Alabama.

He promised increased benefits and security for working people.

He promised us improved outdoor recreation facilities and new revenues from tourism.

He promised legislation which would improve law enforcement and raise the salaries of law enforcement officers.

He promised us a system to keep public officials honest, so that misused money could be recovered for the people.

He promised us strong anti-pollution laws and the right to vote for 18 year olds.

He promised us no new taxes.

and he kept them all.

Re-elect Jere Beasley. A working Lt. Governor.
